HAPPY FATHER'S DAY WEEKEND!

Happy Father's day to all dads, grandpas and "father figures" this weekend.

There is no greater gift in life than being called "Dad".

I hope everyone has a wonderful Father's Day weekend.

A Father means so many things...

An understanding heart,

A source of strength and of support

Right from the very start....

A constant readiness to help

In a kind and thoughtful way.

With encouragement and forgiveness

No matter what comes your way.

A special generosity and always affection, too that will never be forgotten

The inspiration for a day dedicated to Dad dates back to the early 1900s. After a woman named Sonora Smart Dodd's mother died during childbirth, she and her siblings were raised by her father, a Civil War veteran named William Smart.

To express her gratitude for all her father did for her, Dodd initiated a day designated to “instill the same love and reverence for the father as is the mother’s portion,” Dodd wrote about the day in a 1910 newspaper article.

This weekend is an opportunity to honour and acknowledge the incredible influence and significance of dads. We celebrate the profound impact they have had on our lives, shaping us into the individuals we are today.

To all the dads who are present in our lives, we express our deepest gratitude and appreciation. You are the pillars of strength, the guiding lights, and the unwavering support that we rely on. You tirelessly provide for us, protect us, and offer unconditional love. Your presence and involvement in our lives are invaluable, and we cherish the memories we create with you.

To the father figures who have stepped into many lives and filled the role of a dad, we are grateful for the love and care you have shown the children. I know your presence and influence have made a significant difference, and we acknowledge the role you play in shaping their lives. Your support and guidance have been a source of inspiration, and we thank you for your unwavering commitment.

On this special day, we think of those who have lost their dad, it is a day of fond memories. My brother and I were so fortunate to have a wonderful father that taught us so much about values. Father's Day growing up was a happy day, as seedling was complete and there was lots to celebrate.

Let us all take a moment to remember and honor the dads who are no longer with us. Although they may not physically be present, their love and memories continue to live on in our hearts. We reflect on the moments we shared, the lessons we learned, and the lasting impact they made. They may be gone, but their spirit remains with us, guiding us as we navigate life's journey.

On this Father's Day, let us come together to express our love, gratitude, and appreciation for all the dads, step dads, big brother dads, father figures, and those dads who are no longer with us. May we cherish the time we have with them, value the lessons they teach us, and continue to carry their legacy forward.

Did You Know?

The combined value of Saskatchewan Oil and Gas production for 2023 was $13.5 billion.

The Weyburn Oil and Gas show was held June 5 & 6. Our government will continue to stand up for and defend the close to over 26,000 families and workers who depend on jobs created by the upstream oil and gas industry. We are still on track to reach our 2030 Growth Plan goal of reaching 600,000 barrels per day of production, and currently are running around 454,000.

SASKATCHEWAN OIL & GAS SHOW

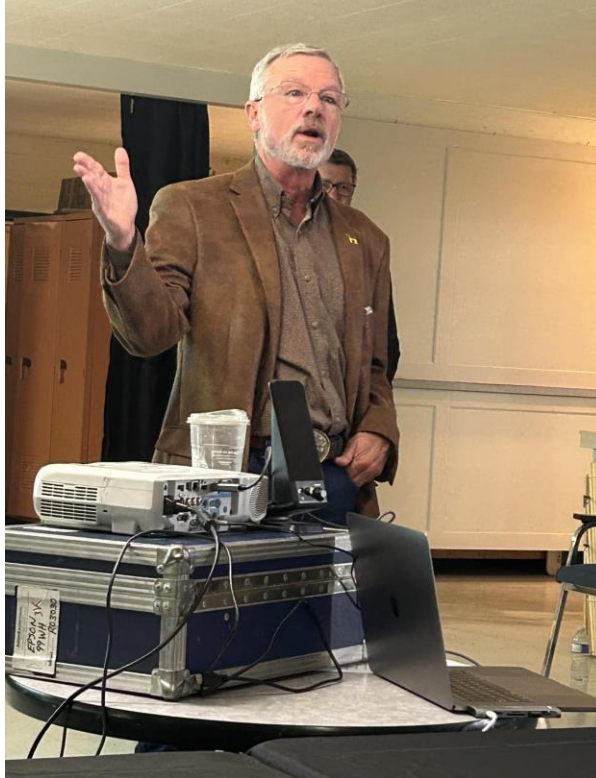

Attending the Saskatchewan Oil and Gas Show in Weyburn was truly an exciting experience. Saskatchewan produces some of the most sustainably products in the world. This industry continues to drive Saskatchewan's economy forward.

The show began with an uplifting kickoff speech delivered by Premier Scott Moe, which set the tone for the event.

I was also honoured to witness former Premier Brad Wall being inducted into the South East Saskatchewan Oil and Gas Hall of Fame with a lifetime achievement award.

Furthermore, I extend my gratitude to Dan Cugnet and the entire organizing team for their hard work and dedication in putting together such a successful event. Lastly, I acknowledge the City of Weyburn for their support and participation in the show.

Statistics Canada Shows Historic Jobs Growth in the Province

Saskatchewan's unemployment rate also fell in May to 5.6 per cent, the third lowest in the nation and well below the national average of 6.2 per cent.

“There are more people working in Saskatchewan than ever before,” Immigration and Career Training Minister Jeremy Harrison said. “Our province's record job growth is driven by the unprecedented level of investment being made in Saskatchewan. Our government will continue to work alongside job creators to build the labour force needed to fill the jobs that Saskatchewan's rapidly growing economy is creating.”

ZOOGLALA CELEBRATES 25 YEARS

ZOOGALA is the event where animal lovers unite!

Once again, the organizers of Zoogala did an outstanding job organizing a great event. This year was extra special as it was the 25th year of Zoogala was celebrated. This one if a kind fundraising event at the Saskatoon Zoo was a magical evening. The sell out crowd attending enjoyed an extraordinary evening, while supporting the continued growth and success of our beloved zoo.

Having the Saskatoon Zoo in our constituency is not only an incredible tourist attraction, but an asset to our city and entire province.

Everyone in attendance was dazzled by amazing entertainment throughout the evening. From captivating performances to exciting prizes, there was something for everyone to enjoy. And let's not forget the true stars of the show – the resident animals, who surely stole our hearts.

Proceeds from Zoogala will directly support the construction of a new home for our beloved bears. I was delighted to see a great number of people attending. Those attending and the generosity of sponsors will help ensure a comfortable and enriching environment for these majestic creatures for years to come.

Saskatoon, and our entire province, is known for coming together to celebrate Zoogala's remarkable journey and to support the continued growth and success of the Saskatoon Zoo.

Congratulations to everyone involved and thank you for being a part of this special milestone.

YOUR LEGISLATIVE REPORT

Our government was proud to attend the Saskatchewan Oil and Gas Show to celebrate the province's oil and gas sector. The oil and gas sector is critical to our province's economy; the value of oil and gas production in our province totalled $13.5 billion in 2023.

Saskatchewan's oil and gas industry is environmentally responsible as well. In fact, if other other-producing countries in the world adopted environmental regulations like Saskatchewan's, greenhouse gas emissions would be cut by an estimated 25%. That's a story we should be telling the world, not making it illegal to even talk about it – which is exactly what the federal Liberal-NDP government is trying to do.

The federal government's Bill C-59 includes amendments to the Competition Act that will penalize energy companies for asserting their environmental records without "adequate and proper substantiation in accordance with internationally-recognized methodology, the proof of which lies on the person making the representation."

This legislation would allow environmental activists to ‘complaint swarm’ and bring applications to the Competition Tribunal. These complaints could result in companies being fined as much as $10-15 million simply for advertising their sustainability records or defending the energy sector.

The Trudeau government has essentially taken NDP MP Charlie Angus’ private members bill, The Fossil Fuels Advertising Act, and incorporated it into legislation.

This bill would effectively act as a gag law on one of Saskatchewan’s most important economic industries, forcing energy companies to face scrutiny unique in the business world. Provincial Minister of Justice and Attorney General Bronwyn Eyre wrote to the federal government to express Saskatchewan’s profound alarm at this proposed legislation. We will explore all options to fight Bill C-59, including the Saskatchewan First Act.

Our government will always stand up for and defend the oil and gas sector, and the 26,000 Saskatchewan workers and families who depend on jobs created by the industry. It’s just a shame that the federal Liberals and the NDP won’t do the same.

As our government continues to promote and grow the oil and gas industry here in Saskatchewan, we are committed to providing opportunities for our students to learn about the industry as well. In a new partnership between the Saskatchewan Distance Learning Centre (Sask DLC) and Teine Energy, new Oil & Gas high school courses will be offered to students.

These courses will allow students to learn about the importance of our oil and gas industry and gain knowledge about career opportunities available in Saskatchewan’s energy industry. Meanwhile, local companies will receive support in building a future workforce to meet consumer demands.

Our government remains committed to protecting and promoting the growth of Saskatchewan’s oil and gas industry. If you have questions, comments or feedback, please don’t hesitate to reach out to my constituency office at ken.cheveldayoff.mla@sasktel.net or call 306.651.7100.

THE DITCH IS NOT THE DUMP; SASKATCHEWAN KICKS OFF CAMPAIGN TO PREVENT ILLEGAL DUMPING DURING CANADIAN ENVIRONMENT WEEK

The ditch is not the dump.

Put waste in the right place. If you suspect someone is dumping waste unlawfully, please call the TIPP line.

saskatchewan.ca/illegal-dumping

In recognition of Canadian Environment Week (June 2-8), the Saskatchewan Ministry of Environment has launched an educational campaign to reduce the number of illegal dump sites in the province, focusing on northern areas that experience a disproportionate amount of illegal dumping.

"Illegal dumping remains a significant challenge - one that threatens public health, damages the environment and harms our communities," Environment Minister Christine Tell said. "We hope this campaign encourages communities to protect natural spaces, reduce clean-up costs and send a clear message that we value our environment."

Canadian Environment Week is a time to consider what more we can do, such as learning and sharing about different environmental issues and impacts, and participating in events and building awareness. The campaign focuses on the negative effect illegal dumping has on human and environmental health, highlighting the importance of proper waste disposal.

REMEMBERING THE 80TH ANNIVERSARY OF D-DAY

The Honourable Laura Ross attended the unveiling of the statue in France stating, "An eight-foot bronze statue depicting a World War II Canadian Soldier, commemorating the Royal Regina Rifles and their contributions on D-Day, has been unveiled in France for the 80th anniversary of the Juno Beach landings.

Our government is honoured to have supported the Royal Regina Rifles in commemorating the 80th anniversary of D-Day and the Regiment's sacrifices during the Second World War.

During World War II, 458 members of the Royal Regina Rifles (then known as The Regina Rifle Regiment) made the ultimate sacrifice, including 108 on D-Day."

SASKATCHEWAN'S TOURISM INDUSTRY CONTINUES TO GROW

Recent domestic and international visitation figures show that Saskatchewan's tourism industry is on the path to growth.

The latest data released by Statistics Canada demonstrate a strong increase in tourism expenditures in Saskatchewan. Travel spending reached almost $2.85 billion in 2023, outpacing the $2.4 billion in spending that was generated in 2022. Similarly, hotel occupancy rates and revenue for 2023 showed significant growth over the previous year.

Domestic travel is also showing strong numbers. Saskatchewan experienced 21 per cent growth in overnight visitation in 2023, the most out of all Canadian provinces.

"Saskatchewan's tourism industry is continuing to grow our economy, create new jobs and provide one-of-a-kind experiences to visitors coming to our province," Minister Responsible for Tourism Saskatchewan Jeremy Harrison said. "Our government set an ambitious target in the Saskatchewan Growth Plan for a 50 per cent increase in annual tourism expenditures by the year 2030. These latest figures show that our tourism industry is on track to achieving that goal."

In addition to domestic travel, visitation from the United States has increased, with 2023 figures showing a 54 per cent increase in U.S. travelers by car. With the re-introduction of an air route between Minneapolis and Saskatoon, air arrivals increased by 46 per cent in 2023. In addition, fishing and hunting license sales rose by 26 per cent over 2022.

“The tourism industry was heavily affected by the downturn in travel over the last few years, not only within the province but on a national and international level,” Tourism Saskatchewan CEO Jonathan Potts said. “The latest figures released by Statistics Canada, along with other positive indicators, demonstrate that tourism in our province is on the upswing. Our organization is focused on reaching the goal set out in the Saskatchewan Growth Plan to assist the tourism industry in achieving $3.6 billion in annual travel spending by 2030. The efforts of our industry partners, with support from sound research and innovative strategies, will help get us there. It is gratifying to see that people are embracing Saskatchewan as an enticing destination.”

The Conference Board of Canada predicts that tourism revenues will continue to increase. Long-term, the Conference Board of Canada estimates that Saskatchewan will reach approximately $3.57 billion in annual visitor expenditures in 2028.
