PROVINCES RENEW COMMITMENT TO VETERINARY TRAINING IN WESTERN CANADA

I was honoured to be joined by Saskatchewan's Minister of Agriculture, Daryl Harrison and speak on behalf of Premier Scott Moe and the Government of Saskatchewan.

As Minister of Advanced Education, I am incredibly proud that our great province is home to one of only two veterinary medicine schools in Western Canada.

Saskatchewan, British Columbia and Manitoba have renewed their financial commitment to the University of Saskatchewan's Western College of Veterinary Medicine (WCVM), continuing a long-standing interprovincial agreement that has been in place for six decades.

The renewed agreement provides more than $194 million to the WCVM over the next five years, helping ensure the college can deliver critical veterinary medicine programming, research and clinical services that address the needs of each province.

"We are proud of the Western College of Veterinary Medicine and the exceptional education opportunities it provides to veterinary students from across Western Canada," Saskatchewan Advanced Education Minister Ken Cheveldayoff said. "We are grateful to have this internationally recognized college right here in Saskatchewan and are fully confident in USask's ability to produce highly skilled veterinarians to care for both our livestock and companion animals."

SCHOLARSHIP OR HONOUR

Scholarship of Honour

This $5,000 scholarship honours Canadian Armed Forces members

The image shows a row of military boots in various colors (tan, olive green, black) against a blurred background of a soldier in camouflage. A blue logo with a white stylized sail or wing is in the bottom right corner of the graphic.

The Saskatchewan Scholarship of Honour offers $5,000 to Canadian Armed Forces members to honour their service and support their post-secondary education. Spouses and children of fallen or members or members with a disability may also be eligible.

ANNUAL SIKH PARADE HELD IN SASKATOON

The Saskatoon Sikh community celebrated the Sikh New Year last weekend with their annual Sikh Day Parade, also known as the Khalsa Day Parade.

I had the pleasure of attending alongside several of my colleagues last weekend. We joined thousands and witnessed firsthand the hospitality, warmth, and community service that defines the Sikh community.

The purpose of this parade is to make people aware about the Sikh religion — who they are, what is their identity — to spread awareness among other community members.

USask's COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING RECEIVED $1.5 MILLION FROM CENOVUS ENERGY!

My colleague Colleen Young, Minister of Energy and Resources and I had the pleasure of attending an exciting celebration May 21.

The University of Saskatchewan is creating space for the engineers our province needs. Today was a remarkable step towards supporting that goal.

Special thanks to Cenovus Energy for its generosity and support of post-secondary institutions and students in Saskatchewan.

$1.5 million is going to make a significant impact on USask's College of Engineering and Saskatchewan's future engineers. This donation will support the Engineering Design Hub, which will expand the Innovation, Design, Engineering, and Applied Sciences initiative (IDEAS).

Students in the College of Engineering will gain knowledge, hands-on experience, and opportunities to prepare for their future careers.

Congratulations to the University of Saskatchewan and the College of Engineering. Our province needs a post-secondary sector that is thinking forward. High-quality learning environments will help ensure that our future workforce supports our growing economy and that we meet the goals in Saskatchewan's Growth Plan.

POST SECONDARY GRADUATES READY TO MAKE THEIR MARK IN SASKATCHEWAN

Post-secondary students from across Saskatchewan are crossing the stage and preparing to enter the work force this spring. Over 10,000 students are graduating from universities, federated, affiliated and regional colleges, technical institutes and private vocational schools in 2025.

"Congratulations to all post-secondary students graduating this spring," Advanced Education Minister Ken Cheveldayoff said. "The high-quality education they have received at Saskatchewan institutions has set these graduates up for success, ensuring a bright future for them, their communities and the province."

Post-secondary graduates are essential to the continued success of Saskatchewan's growing economy. The province supports graduates through several programs, including rural and remote health care incentives, and student loan forgiveness and repayment assistance.

LEAVE BABY WILDLIFE ALONE

As the weather warms up and more people spend time outdoors, it is common to spot young animals on their own in the wild. While they may look like they need your help, often the best thing you can do is appreciate them from a distance and leave them alone.

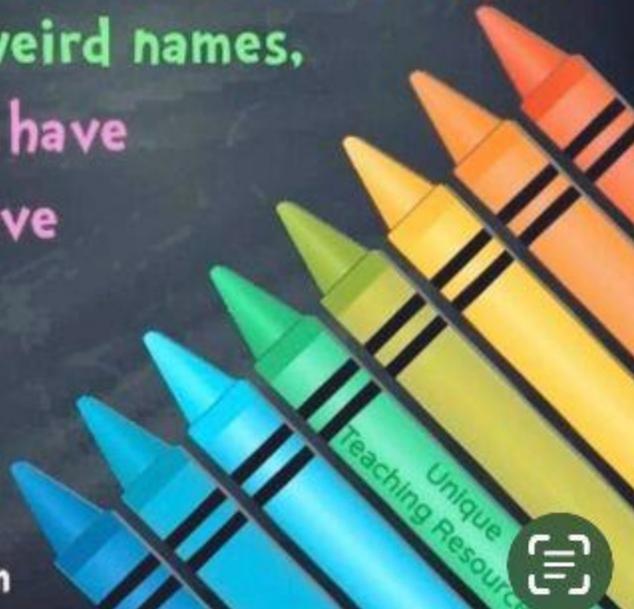

Many animals leave their young alone for long periods of time while they forage for food or to protect them from predators. The mother is often nearby, sometimes even watching. In fact, interference from humans can be harmful or even fatal to the young animal.

10 POLICY PRIORITIES FOR A STRONGER SASKATCHEWAN

POLICY PRIORITIES

FOR A STRONGER SASKATCHEWAN AND CANADA

Premier Scott Moe | Saskatchewan

1. Immediately begin negotiations with China to remove Chinese tariffs on Canadian agri-food products;
2. Strengthen the criminal code through bail reform and the introduction of stronger penalties to fight against new street drugs;
3. Stop attempting to collect the federal carbon tax on home heating from Saskatchewan to be in line with the recent full removal of consumer carbon tax;
4. Transfer responsibility for the output-based pricing systems for heavy emitters to the provinces to ensure measures consider each province's unique industrial structure, economic realities and trade exposure;

Premier Scott Moe | Saskatchewan

STRONGER SASKATCHEWAN, STRONGER CANADA PLAN

5. Repeal the unachievable and unaffordable Clean Electricity Regulations and extend the life of coal power plants to provide affordable and reliable base-load power to Saskatchewan residents;
6. Repeal the Oil and Gas Emissions Cap to create investment certainty and secure the supply of Canadian energy products, some of the most sustainable in the world;
7. Build trade and economic corridors across the country and remove legislation that impacts the movement of western Canadian goods, to effectively and efficiently get our goods to domestic and international markets;
8. Restore the investment climate and streamline federal approval process to allow major projects to proceed;

Premier Scott Moe | Saskatchewan

STRONGER SASKATCHEWAN, STRONGER CANADA PLAN

9. Expand pipeline capacity to protect the collective energy security for our nation, which will open up rail and port capacity for other exportable commodities;
10. Fundamentally reform the Impact Assessment Act, cutting red tape and streamlining the process to avoid duplication and infringement into provincial jurisdiction.

These 10 priorities reflect Saskatchewan's vision for a stronger and more united Canada. One that values collaboration, supports economic growth, ensures environmental responsibility and respects provincial decision-making. With partnership, these actions can drive meaningful progress for all Canadians.

SASKATCHEWAN EXPORTS CONTINUE TO REACH NEW MARKETS IN 2024

Provincial Exports Achieved the Third Highest Year on Record, Valued at $45.4 Billion in 2024

Today, the Government of Saskatchewan and the Saskatchewan Trade and Export Partnership (STEP) released the province's annual State of Trade report. The report, which outlines provincial trade highlights for 2024, reveals that it was the third-highest export year for Saskatchewan, with the total value of exports reaching $45.4 billion.

"Saskatchewan is providing much needed certainty as we move through a time of global trade shifts," Trade and Export Development Minister Warren Kaeding said. "Our exporters, manufacturers, and producers remain suppliers of choice as we bring food and energy security to countries around the world. This creates jobs, economic opportunities and a high standard of living for all who call our province home."

CONTRIBUTIONS OF PUBLIC WORKS PROFESSIONALS RECOGNIZED MAY 18-24, 2025

The Government of Saskatchewan (GoS) is celebrating the contributions of public works professionals by recognizing May 18 - 24, 2025, as National Public Works Week in Saskatchewan.

Celebrated annually during the third week of May, National Public Works Week recognizes the contributions and efforts of public works professionals and seeks to inspire a new generation of young people to consider a career in this much-valued profession.

"It is important to recognize the critical role of public works and how the profession has been a key contributor to our province's success," SaskBuilds and Procurement Minister David Marit said. "We all depend on public works professionals to not only serve, but to make critical decisions and rise to challenges for Saskatchewan's benefit."

CROP REPORT FOR THE PERIOD MAY 13 TO MAY 19,2025

Weekly Crop Report

Seeding Progress

72% complete for the week of
May 13 - 19

Seeding in Saskatchewan is nearly three-quarters complete with 72 per cent of crops now planted, which is an increase of 23 per cent from last week. This is a smaller increase than the week prior, which is largely due to rain delays in parts of the south and east regions of the province. Seeding progress remains notably higher than the five-year average of 60 per cent and 10-year average of 64 per cent.

Producers in the southwest are in the home stretch of seeding with 89 per cent of crops currently seeded in this region. Progress in the northwest and west-central follow closely with 81 per cent of crops now seeded in these regions. Producers in the northeast made good progress this week as seeding progress in this region sits at 74 per cent. Seeding progress in the southeast and east-central are below the provincial average. Seeding in the southeast is 63 per cent complete, while the east-central region has the smallest percentage of current seeded acres with progress currently sitting at 58 per cent.

OFFICIAL OPENING OF A GROUP HOME

Four individuals with intellectual disabilities now have a safe and supportive place to call home. On May 2, Social Services Minister Terry Jenson joined Elmwood Residences Inc. to celebrate the official opening of a group home for four former residents of Kinsmen Manor.

The Ministry of Social Services invested $1.4 million in capital funding to support the development of the home and is providing $608,000 in annual operating funding. This investment supports greater independence and quality of life for persons with disabilities in our province.

SASKATCHEWAN PROVIDES NEARLY $1 MILLION TO SUPPORT YOUNG ENTREPRENEURS

Minister of Trade and Export Development Warren Kaeding, along with Saskatchewan Chamber CEO Prabha Ramaswamy launched the new Young Entrepreneur Bursary that will support up to 57 local young entrepreneurs with bursaries of $5,000 to foster business development.

The province will provide Saskatchewan Chamber of Commerce with $285,000 per year, for three years, plus administration costs to support entrepreneurs between the ages of 18 and 35 years of age who have been in operation for 10 years or less. Applications open today through to July 14, 2025 and will be awarded in the fall.

"The New Young Entrepreneur Bursary promotes business development and innovation, creating opportunities for small business owners and entrepreneurs across our Province," Kaeding said. "Collaboration between government and organizations like Saskatchewan Chamber of Commerce is an important component of Saskatchewan's Growth Plan and our commitment to ensure the province remains one of the best places in Canada to start and grow a business."
