SASKATCHEWAN PLANNING FUTURE INTENSIVE CARE UNIT EXPANSION IN SASKATOON

EXPANDING INTENSIVE CARE UNIT IN SASKATOON

We are supporting immediate steps to add more adult Intensive Care Unit capacity at Royal University Hospital in Saskatoon to meet the critical care needs of our growing province.

The Government of Saskatchewan is supporting immediate steps to add more adult Intensive Care Unit (ICU) capacity at Royal University Hospital (RUH) in Saskatoon to meet the critical care needs of our growing province.

Expanding ICU Capacity

Saskatchewan planning future ICU expansion in Saskatoon

Two Requests For Proposal (RFP) will be issued in September 2024 to advance the design phase for ICU expansion and begin the second phase of a multi-year strategy to increase ICU capacity. This phase will advance work on expanding the physical space at RUH to accommodate additional bed capacity for up to 26 ICU patients and create individual rooms for more appropriate patient care.

"It is crucial to meet the needs of Saskatchewan's critically ill patients," Health Minister Everett Hindley said. "Enhancing capacity within an ICU is complex and requires extensive planning to address construction, health human resource needs, beds and equipment. By improving the safety and quality of patient care, we are ensuring the health care system's critical care needs are supported well into the future."

ROOFTOP GARDEN AT ROYAL UNIVERSITY HOSPITAL

A new rooftop garden at Royal University Hospital in Saskatoon has begun to add fresh produce to the menu in the hospital cafeteria. The aeroponic towers are tended daily to ensure the produce is of the highest quality. In early August, gardener Melanie was able to harvest and prepare lettuce, dill, and cilantro for service. Since then over 130 pounds of fresh produce has been harvested from the towers on the rooftop through the SHA's planetary health initiative.

The SHA recognizes the impact food has on overall health and well-being. We are committed to providing all patients and residents, regardless of where they are located, with access to safe, healthy, high-quality food that meets nutritional standards.

CELEBRATING STAN HALLIWELL

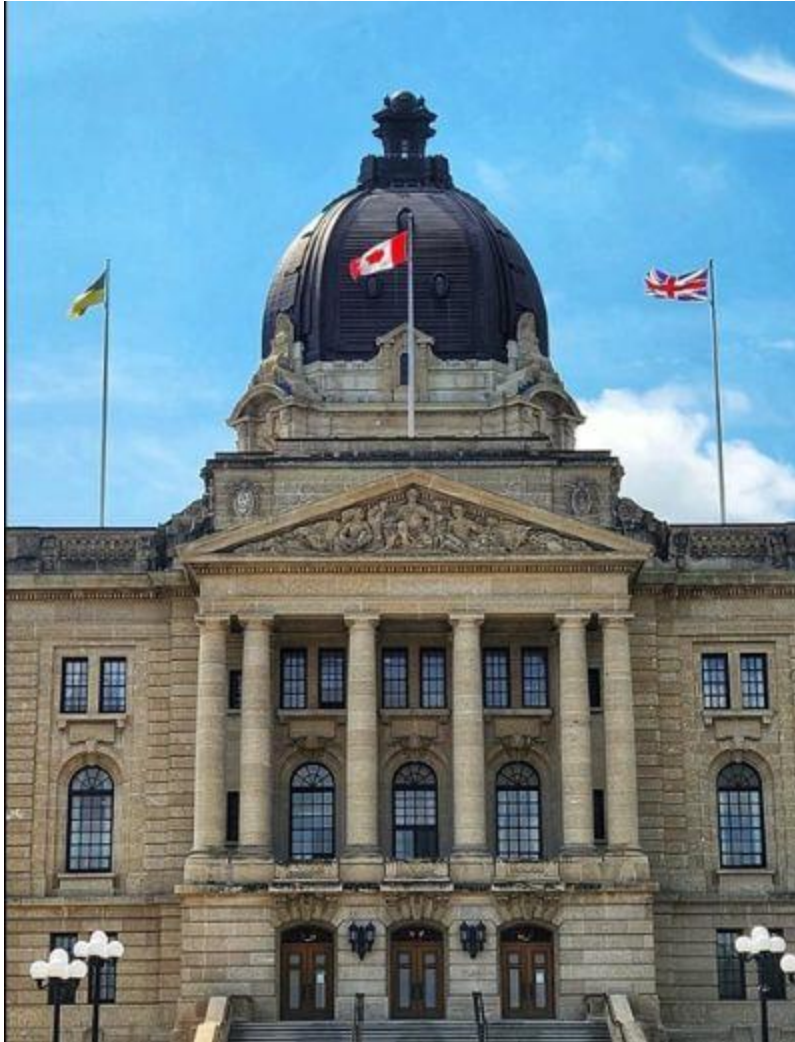

It was a pleasure to participate, along with MP Kevin Waugh in a celebration of my good friend Stan Halliwell's vision and leadership to establish a league for active adults to play a game they love.

Stan continues to play hockey in this league and I was honoured to be present and speak on behalf of the Honourable Laura Ross to celebrate Stan's significant accomplishment along with his 90th birthday! Stan was recognized for his effort to establish the Sixty Plus Hockey League over thirty years ago.

A newly finished dressing room expansion is being named in his honour at this event. Congratulations Stan!

YOUR LEGISLATIVE REPORT

Saskatchewan's job market continues to see significant gains as a direct result of our strong and growing economy. The province added 19,200 jobs year-over-year in August, ranking third in growth among provinces at 3.2 per cent.

The province continues to have the lowest seasonally-adjusted unemployment rate among provinces at 5.4 per cent, well below the national average of 5.4 per cent. These figures show that our province's strong investment attractiveness and lowest in the nation inflation rate are leading to the creation of thousands of new jobs and opportunities for Saskatchewan people.

The economy here in Saskatchewan is strong and vibrant because we are a reliable producer of food, fuel, fertilizer and critical minerals. Saskatchewan was the world's leading exporter of canary seed in 2023, reaching a value of just over $100 million, led by shipments to Mexico. Saskatchewan plays a key role in establishing Canada as the world's largest producer and exporter of canary seed.

The technology sector is on track to meet and exceed Saskatchewan's Growth Plan goal of tripling the tech sector by 2030, according to a newly published report commissioned by Innovation Saskatchewan. Saskatchewan's tech sector has seen significant growth and consistent expansion, experiencing a 108.6 per cent increase in employment growth since 2019.

As a result of Saskatchewan's strong and growing economy, our government can continue to invest in the things that matter most to Saskatchewan people, like health care. Our government is adding more adult Intensive Care Unit (ICU) capacity at Royal University Hospital in Saskatoon to meet the critical care needs of our growing province.

The latest phase of this project will include design work to accommodate up to 26 more ICU patients and create additional individual rooms for more appropriate patient care. Our government remains committed to ensuring the health system's critical care needs are supported well into the future.

Our government is expanding the scope of practice for pharmacists to offer more care for patients with training that will allow pharmacists to test for strep throat and ear infections. This new training is the first of its kind in Canada, allowing pharmacists to make greater use of their education and skill set to benefit Saskatchewan patients.

Education is another priority for our government as we remain committed to providing quality education and modern learning environments for our children to succeed. Sites have been selected for the new joint-use elementary and high schools in The Towns neighbourhood in east Regina.

The joint-use elementary school is set to accommodate a combined total of 1,400 students, with 800 spots allocated for the Public school and 600 for the Catholic school. The high school will be in the same neighbourhood and is being designed to accommodate up to 2,000 students. The school builds will provide 180 additional child care spaces.

In partnership with the Government of Canada, we recently announced $8.4 million in early learning and child care grants to assist child care centres in recruiting and retaining staff. In addition, another $1 million will be added to the Early Childhood Educator wage enhancement grant for a total of nearly $53 million. These grants will help expand $10 per day child care spaces for Saskatchewan families to help make the province one of the most affordable places to live in Canada.

Another key priority for our government is investing in safe communities and neighbourhoods. Our government is investing $17.1 million in a multi-ministry approach to safe neighbourhoods by adding more police officers, training new officers, and introducing new enforcement tools, while working to ensure that social supports are in place and accessible. This funding will address issues and improve overall community safety and wellbeing for Saskatchewan residents.

As our government continues this work to keep Saskatchewan strong and vibrant, we look forward to hearing from you. You can contact my MLA office at 306.651.7100 or email: ken.cheveldayoff.mla@sasktel.net, It is important to me to hear what matters to you!

PROVINCE RAISES AWARENESS OF LIVING ORGAN DONATION

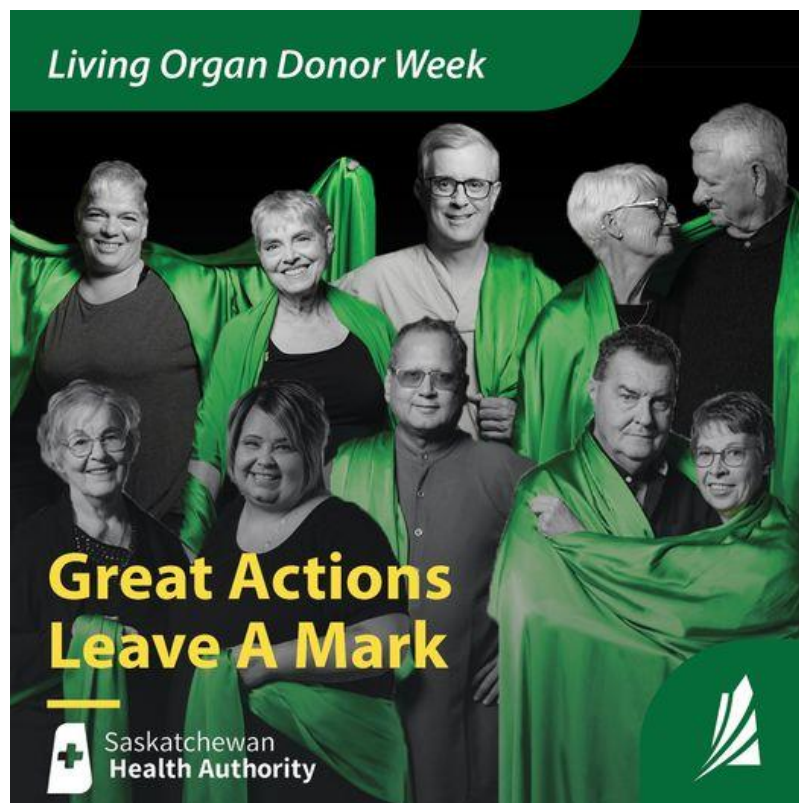

Critical Need for Organ Donations, Saskatchewan is Joining Canadians in Recognizing Living Donation Week (LDW) From September 8 to 14, 2024

A living donation occurs when someone gives either a kidney or a part of their liver to a patient with end-stage kidney or liver disease, significantly improving survival rates for those suffering from organ failure. LDW aims to improve access to living kidney and liver donations while inspiring those currently waiting for a transplant, and everyone who cares about them, to explore the living organ donation option.

"Living organ donors are true heroes, giving a second chance at life to those in need," Health Minister Everett Hindley said. "Their selfless acts of kindness inspire us all and remind us of the incredible difference one person can make. We encourage eligible Saskatchewan residents to learn more about living organ donation and consider registering as donors. By working together, we can make a significant impact and ensure that more individuals receive the life-saving organ transplants they need."

Labour force numbers released by Statistics Canada show that Saskatchewan's job market remains strong, with the province adding 19,200 new jobs year-over-year in August, ranking third in growth among provinces in terms of percentage change at 3.2 per cent. Saskatchewan continues to have the lowest seasonally adjusted unemployment rate among provinces at 5.4 per cent, well below the national average of 6.6 per cent.

"Saskatchewan's job market continues to see significant gains as a direct result of our strong and growing economy," Immigration and Career Training Minister Jeremy Harrison said. "Our strong investment attractiveness and lowest in the nation inflation rate are leading to the creation of thousands of new jobs and opportunities for Saskatchewan people. Our government will continue to work directly with our job creators and make targeted investments, ensuring employers are able to fill key vacancies. We are keeping our communities strong and vibrant, while ensuring that our province remains the best place to work, live and raise a family in the country."

LOWEST UNEMPLOYMENT RATE AMONG PROVINCES

August 2024 Labour Force Survey

With the lowest unemployment rate among provinces, more Saskatchewan people are working and our economy is showing strong and steady growth. The August Labour Force Survey shows Saskatchewan's unemployment rate at 5.4 per cent (seasonally adjusted) for the second month in a row, well below the national average of 6.6 per cent.

Saskatchewan continues to have the lowest unemployment rate in Canada and one of the strongest rates of annual job growth, with 19,200 new jobs created in the past year.

MAKING COMMUNITIES SAFER

$17.1 million will be allocated for a multi-ministry approach to safe neighbourhoods by adding more police officers, training new officers, and introducing new enforcement tools, while working to ensure that social supports are in place and accessible.

Saskatchewan Party Caucus

Investing in safe communities and neighbourhoods is a priority for our government. The additional funding will boost the level of policing in municipalities and improve overall community safety and well-being for Saskatchewan residents.

From January to June 2024, municipal Crime Reduction Teams (CRT) and Saskatchewan Trafficking Response Teams (STRT) removed over 100 firearms, 6,300 grams of methamphetamine, 5,500 grams of cocaine, and 1,400 grams of fentanyl, as well as other illicit street drugs, from Saskatchewan communities. They also made over 45 human trafficking interventions, connecting victims with supports; laid over 478 criminal charges; and removed over $110,000 from the hands of criminals.

The 2024-25 Provincial Budget invested $4.2 million in CRTs and $801,000 in STRTs through municipal police grants. Municipal CRTs target street gangs and prolific offenders while responding to urban and rural crime surges as needed. STRTs investigate the trafficking of drugs, weapons and people. There are currently three municipal CRT and STRT teams operating in Prince Albert, Regina and Saskatoon.

"Time and time again these specialized policing teams demonstrate the importance of this work, and this funding that helps make that work possible," Corrections, Policing and Public Safety Minister Paul Merriman said. "We will continue to invest in these teams, and we look forward to many more successful investigations that are yet to come."

RCMP SASKATCHEWAN ENFORCEMENT RESPONSE TEAMS CONTINUE TO DELIVER RESULTS

Investments by the Government of Saskatchewan into the RCMP's Saskatchewan Enforcement Response Teams (SERT) continue to deliver results in targeting criminal activity in the province. RCMP's SERT team includes their Crime Reduction Team (CRT), Saskatchewan Trafficking Response Team (STRT), and Warrant Enforcement and Suppression Team (WEST).

From December 2023 through July 2024, RCMP SERT teams seized a total of 128 firearms, over $196,000 CAD, more than 940 grams of methamphetamine, nearly 5,000 grams of cocaine, and over 456,000 packs of illegal tobacco.

"I want to thank the RCMP for their continued efforts to address gangs, illegal weapons and drugs, human trafficking and other acts of criminal activity in the province," Corrections, Policing and Public Safety Minister Paul Merriman said. "Investments in SERT, and other specialized policing units allow officers to target these complex issues and improve overall community safety."

INNOVATION SASKATCHEWAN INVESTS $1.5 MILLION IN NEW ENERGY INNOVATION HUB AT PTRC

Innovation Saskatchewan is providing $1.5 million in funding to Petroleum Technology Research Centre (PTRC) to establish the Energy Innovation Hub (EIH) at its headquarters at Innovation Place Regina to help meet current and future demands.

The new facility leverages a unique opportunity within the province to integrate subsurface energy infrastructure, expertise and resources into a single lab within the larger existing energy research network, facilitating a coordinated approach to energy research in Saskatchewan.

"The new Energy Innovation Hub is a significant achievement for our province and will further elevate Saskatchewan's position as a global leader in innovative energy research," Minister Responsible for Innovation Saskatchewan Jeremy Harrison said. "Our government is proud to support the world-renowned research at PTRC which will create new opportunities for Saskatchewan people and continue to drive economic growth in the province."

ROOTS OF HOPE SUICIDE PREVENTION

As part of Saskatchewan's Pillars for Life Suicide Prevention Plan, the province is providing $400,000 in new annual funding to expand the Roots of Hope suicide prevention program to Prince Albert and North Battleford, joining programs in La Ronge, Meadow Lake and Buffalo Narrows. Funding totals $1.1 million annually for all five communities and is operated through the Saskatchewan Health Authority (SHA).

"The tragic loss of one person to suicide is one too many," Mental Health and Addictions Minister Tim McLeod said. "Mental health and suicide prevention are priorities for our government as we work with partners to reduce suicide rates in Saskatchewan. Community-led programs, such as Roots of Hope, are a key part of this important work."

SASKATCHEWAN SEES UNPRECEDENTED 47.5 PER CENT GROWTH IN BUILDING PERMITS

Province Ranks Second in Year-Over-Year and Month-Over-Month Growth

Latest numbers from Statistics Canada show continued growth for the province's building permits, which had a 47.5 per cent increase for year-over-year growth for July 2024 compared to July 2023 (seasonally adjusted). This places Saskatchewan second in terms of percentage change among the provinces.

"The massive growth in building permits shows Saskatchewan's business environment and economy continues to lead Canada with residents and industry having strong confidence in making long-term investments in our province," Trade and Export Development Minister Jeremy Harrison said. "Our construction sector is growing and creating more jobs and opportunities for Saskatchewan's strong and vibrant communities. This is the result of the strategic measures our government has taken to create a competitive business environment, which has made Saskatchewan one of the most attractive jurisdictions in the world for new investment."

MORE THAN $16.8 MILLION TO BE INVESTED IN RURAL ROADS

RIRG

Rural Integrated Roads for Growth

The Government of Saskatchewan and Saskatchewan Association of Rural Municipalities (SARM) announced more than $16.8 million of investment for 13 rural road projects, which will help producers ship goods more efficiently and support the province's export-based economy.

Under the Rural Integrated Roads for Growth (RIRG) program, the Ministry of Highways will invest more than $5.3 million toward the projects and rural municipalities (RMs) will fund the remaining $11.5 million this construction season.

"These investments recognize the important role our rural municipal roads play in Saskatchewan's strong and growing export-based economy," Highways Minister Lori Carr said. "They are part of an integrated transportation network that supports our local industries, rural communities and enhances our province's quality of life."

CROP REPORT FOR THE PERIOD SEPTEMBER 3 - 9, 2024

Weekly Crop Report

Harvest Progress

61% complete for the week of Sept. 3-9

Producers were able to make significant harvest progress over the past week due to the lack of moisture. Currently, 61 per cent of this year's crop is in the bin, up from 42 per cent reported last week. This is ahead of the five-year average of 50 per cent and the 10-year average of 46 per cent. Although the hot and dry weather has allowed harvest to progress, combine and equipment fires are a significant risk. Producers are also monitoring stored grain closely as there are concerns for bin heating given the high temperatures that occurred at the time of combining.

The southwest region is still the furthest advanced in harvest progress at 85 per cent complete. The southeast and west-central regions are past the half-way point, with 65 per cent and 54 per cent of harvest complete, respectively. The northwest region currently has 49 per cent harvested, the east-central region is 46 per cent harvested and the northeast region is 34 per cent harvested.

THOUGHT OF THE DAY

Last newsletter I shared information on bullying

Copied, but appropriate to share:

With a new school year underway, I want to ask you a favour. Sit with your child for 5 minutes and explain that there is never a reason to make fun of someone for their high, their weight, their skin ton, their home life or the things they enjoy.

Explain there's nothing wrong with wearing the seam clothes and shoes every day. Explain to them that a used backpack carried the same dreams as a new one. Teach them to not to exclude anything for "being different". Explain to them that teasing hurls and that they are at school to learn, not to spread negativity.

Remind them some kids don't go home to loving families so it's important to be kind.

Reposting the following information published in our last newsletter:

Bullying can be:

- Verbal: usually involving taunts, name-calling, put-downs, slurs, offensive gestures, incessant mocking, threats, intimidation and laughing at someone else's expense;
- Social: excluding, ganging up, ridiculing, gossiping, spreading rumours, extortion or stealing of money and possessions;
- Physical: involving physical harm often from kicking, punching, hair pulling, pinching and pushing;
- Sexual: involving unwanted physical contact or sexually inappropriate comments; and

- Cyber: using a computer or other technology to forward or spread hurtful messages and/or images.
