PREMIER SCOTT MOE MEETS WITH PRIME MINISTER JUSTIN TRUDEAU

CTV News Regina, November 12: Ottawa: Premier Scott Moe has expressed his disappointment with how his meeting with the Prime Minister went.

"We have provided some options for (Trudeau) to support the people of the province and today I did not hear a commitment to moving forward on those items, " said Moe.

Top of the agenda were the Premier's previously stated priorities, outlined in a series of letters sent to the Prime Minister following the election that saw the Liberals entirely shut out of Saskatchewan and Alberta.

Saskatoon Willowgrove constituents Brad Sylvester and Wade MacBain also laid wreaths.

PROVINCE SUPPORTS NEWCOMERS IN OVERCOMING BARRIERS TO EMPLOYMENT

The Government of Saskatchewan is continuing its partnership with the Regina Open Door Society (RODS) to assist newcomers to the province in overcoming cultural and language barriers to employment.

The Employment Readiness program helps prepare newcomers reach employment readiness in order to find and maintain ongoing employment, as well as reach self-sufficiency in job search, career decision making, employment planning, labour market attachment and job management. PROVINCE HOLDS SERVICE OF REMEMBRANCE FOR PUBLIC SERVANTS

Premier Scott Moe gathered with dignitaries, veterans and members of the Saskatchewan public service in the Rotunda of the Legislative Building last week to remember public servants who have given their lives in times of war and to commemorate the eightieth anniversary of the beginning of the Second World War.

The service paid tribute to those who heeded the call to protect our country and sacrificed their lives for our freedom.

“Eighty years ago, brave men and women from Saskatchewan and across Canada stood together to defend our country during the Second World War,” Moe said. “Too many of them never made it home. Today, we remember those who fell and those who returned home, all of whom fought to ensure our freedom.”

Following the service, the Premier laid a wreath at the Saskatchewan War Memorial, which is located on the Legislative grounds to the west of the Legislative Building. The memorial lists the names of Saskatchewan’s fallen soldiers over the generations.

The Saskatchewan Virtual War Memorial, managed by the Saskatchewan War Memorial Committee, is an online website to commemorate Saskatchewan citizens who lost their lives in war. The site features more than 11,000 war casualties and their stories. The site complements the physical war memorial.

AMENDMENTS TO SASKATCHEWAN'S TOBACCO CONTROL ACT TO LIMIT VAPING PASSED

Protecting Public Health

NEW VAPING REGULATIONS

November 6, amendments to The Tobacco Control Act were passed unanimously by the Legislative Assembly allowing the province to move quickly to ensure regulation of vaping and vaping products is in line with existing tobacco legislation.

“Quick passage of this legislation demonstrates how important it is to further protect our youth from vaping,” Health Minister Jim Reiter said. “I want to thank our partners and health stakeholders for their support for this legislation and look forward to consulting with them again on the regulations and how to best address flavoured vaping products.”

Over the next months, the Ministry of Health will proceed with the necessary supporting regulations to address both the restrictions on vaping and vaping products and the enforcement. New signage prohibiting vaping will be made available for public buildings, retail locations and school properties. It is anticipated that The Tobacco Control Act amendments and supporting regulations will be in force in early 2020.

Introduced on November 5, the amendments in Bill 182 will:

- restrict the sale of vapour/e-cigarette devices and products to individuals 18 years of age and older;
- prohibit the display of vapour/e-cigarette products in a retail business where young persons have access;
- restrict the use of vapour/e-cigarette products in and around public buildings, including schools and school grounds, in the same manner as our provincial tobacco legislation;
- prohibit the sale of vapour/e-cigarette products from specified facilities such as amusement parks, arcades, and theatres where youth frequent; and
- restrict advertising of vapour/e-cigarette products in the same manner as tobacco products by prohibiting advertising signs and promotional signs in areas where young persons can enter.

GOVERNMENT WORKS TO ESTABLISH COMMITTEE ON CLASS SIZE AND COMPOSITION

November 6, Deputy Premier and Education Minister Gordon Wyant released terms of reference to education sector partners that will be used to develop a framework to guide class size and composition practices in Prekindergarten to Grade 12 classrooms.

The Ministry of Education will work to establish the Provincial Committee on Class Size and Composition and host the first meeting before the end of the month.

“I have heard from parents, teachers and staff that our classrooms are more complex than ever,” Wyant said. “I look forward to the work of this committee helping to develop solutions to guide class size and composition planning in our schools.”

The Provincial Committee on Class Size and Composition will be comprised of representatives from various education partners, including:

- parents;
- academics;
- professional staff;
- the Saskatchewan Teachers' Federation;

- the Saskatchewan School Boards Association; and
- the Ministry of Education.

The committee will be expected to construct a framework on class size and composition with the intention of implementing recommendations for the 2020-21 school year.

RETAIL LIQUOR PERMITS AVAILABLE SOON IN FIRST ONLINE AUCTION

Online auctions for Retail Liquor Store Permits

 Auction opens Nov. 27; closes Dec. 6.
Interested bidders must register on McDougallBay.com

 Permits are available in: Estevan, Martensville, Melfort, Weyburn and Warman. Additional auctions for other communities will be held in 2020.

 Winning bidders must also meet all terms of holding a retail liquor permit.
Visit SLGA.com for more information

The first auctions for available retail liquor store permits in Saskatchewan begin November 27 with bids closing on December 6. Communities included in the first round of auctions are Estevan, Martensville, Melfort, Weyburn and Warman.

“We have received a fair amount of interest since first announcing the population-based policy to allocate additional liquor permits earlier this year,” Minister Responsible for the Saskatchewan Liquor and Gaming Authority Gene Makowsky said. “The online auction process is a way to allocate the permits efficiently and transparently so that new permittees can complete the application process and open for business in a timely manner.”

In May 2019, the government announced changes that outline how additional retail liquor permits are distributed in Saskatchewan. The availability of permits is determined by the population of the community and the number of current retailers operating. A community must have a minimum population of 500 to be eligible for a retail liquor permit.

SASKATCHEWAN COMMUNITIES BENEFIT FROM PROGRAM TO SUPPORT VETERANS

The Saskatchewan Veterans Service Club Support Program is well-received by the military service clubs it is intended to help. The $100,000 program, announced last November by Premier Scott Moe, is fully subscribed, with 25 organizations receiving funding grants to tackle much-needed repairs and upgrades to buildings and equipment.

“These grants support the Royal Canadian Legion Saskatchewan Command (Legion) and the Saskatchewan Army, Navy, Air Force Veterans (ANAVETS) properties around the province,” Parks, Culture, and Sport Minister Gene Makowsky said. “In many cases, the surrounding areas also benefit, as many facilities are also community spaces, in addition to their important role of serving veterans.”

The program was implemented as part of the 2019-20 budget to provide funding grants to registered, non-profit military service clubs, Legion branches and ANAVETS units based in Saskatchewan.

The grant program strengthens and contributes to the long-term sustainability of military service clubs as well as engage, promote and inspire not only the veterans, but their families and communities.

“These funds have been put to good use across the province and have provided sustainability to branches and units,” Royal Canadian Legion Saskatchewan Command President Keith Andrews said. “We thank the provincial government for honouring the sacrifices of those who provided us with our freedom.”

The Legion and ANAVETS are an integral part of Saskatchewan communities. The program repairs and upgrades allow for military clubs to continue serving as community hubs, to support the important work of veterans and to help keep the memory of fallen heroes alive.

PROVINCIAL CAPITAL COMMISSION MARKS 75TH ANNIVERSARY OF D-DAY WITH VETERAN CARE PACKAGES

November 7th, Provincial Military Liaison and Moose Jaw-Wakamow MLA Greg Lawrence marked 75 years since Canadian soldiers stormed the beaches of Normandy with a century-old tradition of care packages for soldiers.

“During the First and Second World War, a popular activity in North America was to send care kits of stitchery, knitting, letters and snacks to soldiers on the front lines to raise morale and thank them for protecting our rights and freedoms at home,” Lawrence said. “Today, we continue to mark the sacrifice and service of our Canadian Forces by providing modern care kits to veterans.”

The Provincial Capital Commission leads this initiative in partnership with the Regina Stitchery

Guild, Royal Canadian Legion and the UnderstandUs mental health initiative. Kits include a letter of thanks and encouragement, hand-crafted scarf and cross-stitch ornament, UnderstandUs ball cap and the information cards How to Help Yourself and How to Help Others. Read more here.

Starting November 15, professional and volunteer firefighters will be able to access Workers' Compensation coverage for six additional cancers. In addition, an amendment will come into force to enable Workers' Compensation Board (WCB) claimants to access their entire claim file.

The amendments, which were announced last December, adds prostate, skin, breast, cervical and ovarian cancer as well as multiple myeloma to the list of occupational diseases with presumptive coverage for firefighters.

“We value the work that our firefighters do and continue to do every day to keep the province safe,” Labour Relations and Workplace Safety Minister Don Morgan said. “We know the risks that they face and want to continue to provide the supports they need by updating and expanding their WCB coverage.”

REPORT FROM THE LEGISLATURE

November 7th - Your government is committed to reducing the length of time people are waiting for surgery.

Reducing surgical wait times has long been a priority for our government, dating back to the successful Saskatchewan Surgical Initiative which took the longest surgical wait times in Canada to among the very shortest.

Wait times in Saskatchewan have been increasing again due to additional patients needing surgery, not due to fewer surgeries being performed in Saskatchewan. We will work to improve wait times for patients through $10 million in new funding.

Approximately 1,700 additional surgeries will be performed before the end of March 2020. These surgeries include cataracts, hip and knee replacements, gynecological surgeries, dental, and ear nose throat procedures.

The number of Transcatheter Aortic Valve Implantation (TAVI) cardiac procedures will also grow by 60 per cent. TAVI is an option for patients who require aortic valve replacement and are not candidates for open-heart surgery.

To meet the March 2020 target, the Saskatchewan Health Authority will increase surgical hours in hospitals and also increase contracted volumes with third-party facilities. While the majority of surgeries will occur in Regina and Saskatoon where some of the longest wait times exist, they will be expanded to other centres as well.

In addition to action on surgical waits, we have unanimously passed amendments to The Tobacco Control Act. This allows the province to move quickly to ensure regulation of vaping and vaping products is in line with existing tobacco legislation.

Introduced on November 5, the amendments in Bill 182 will:

- restrict the sale of vapour/e-cigarette devices and products to individuals 18 years of age and older;
- prohibit the display of vapour/e-cigarette products in a retail business where young persons have access;
- restrict the use of vapour/e-cigarette products in and around public buildings, including schools and school grounds, in the same manner as our provincial tobacco legislation;
- prohibit the sale of vapour/e-cigarette products from specified facilities such as amusement parks, arcades, and theatres where youth frequent; and
- restrict advertising of vapour/e-cigarette products in the same manner as tobacco products by prohibiting advertising signs and promotional signs in areas where young persons can enter.

Quick passage of this legislation demonstrates how important it is to further protect our youth from vaping. We look forward to consulting with partners and health stakeholders on the regulations and how best to address flavoured vaping products.

In the coming months, the Ministry of Health will proceed with the necessary supporting regulations to address both the restrictions on vaping and vaping products and the enforcement. New signage prohibiting vaping will be made available for public buildings, retail locations and school properties.

It is anticipated that The Tobacco Control Act amendments and supporting regulations will be in force in early 2020.

Your Saskatchewan Party government has more than doubled health care funding since 2007, and our focus on recruiting and retaining medical professionals has resulted in about 3,800 more nurses and nearly 900 more doctors practicing across the province.

We have invested over $1.6 billion into needed health care infrastructure. These funds have allowed our government to open five new or replacement hospitals, 13 long-term care centres, and fund 20 additional major capital projects.

Earlier this year, our government announced that the Weyburn Hospital replacement project and the Prince Albert Victoria Hospital redevelopment project will be entering their final planning stages.

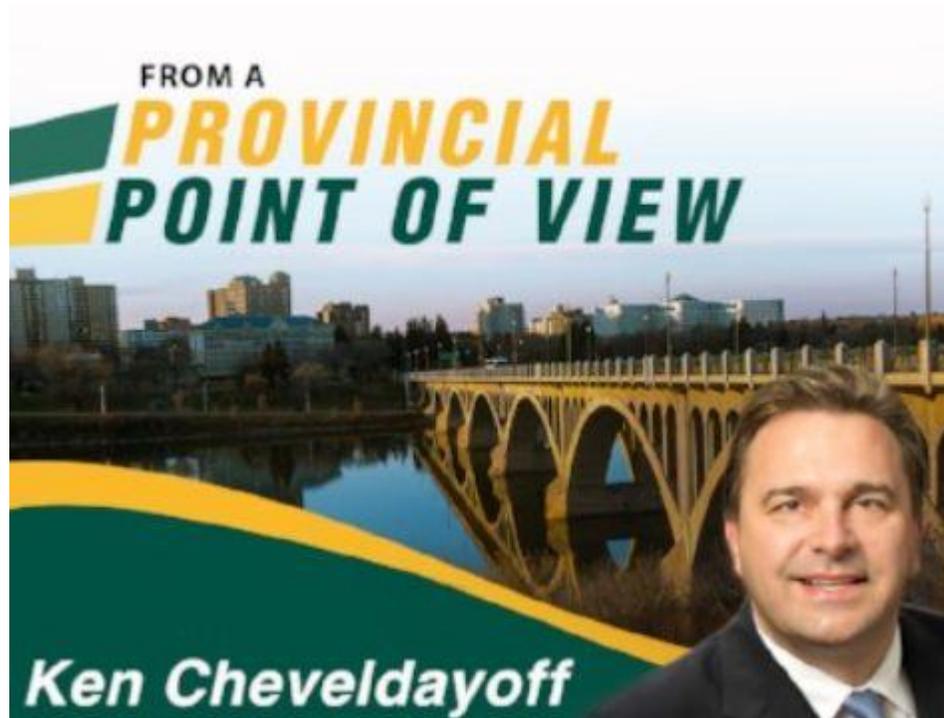

In March, our government delivered on its commitment to mental health with the 284-bed Saskatchewan Hospital North Battleford and, for the first time ever, Saskatchewan has its own children's hospital – the new Jim Pattison Children's Hospital in Saskatoon.

From record funding for mental health and addictions services to enhanced supports for seniors and those living with dementia and Alzheimer's disease, health care remains a top priority for our government. We will continue to prioritize program spending and strengthen health care for all Saskatchewan people.
